Original documents must be presented during the personal interview with the visa officer and a copy must be submitted. All documents should be translated into Slovene or English by official translator. If the applicant fails to prepare the application with supporting documents properly, he/she might be advised to book a new appointment or insist on submitting incomplete application.

Embassy will not take any responsibility for incomplete applications or late submissions. In case of not delivering the supporting documents until requested date, the Embassy will decide according to Visa Code. Once the visa application, together with all supporting documents, is complete, the procedure takes no less than 15 days. It can in some cases take 30 days.

NOTE: The Embassy reserves the right to request further documentation if needed. The applicant undersigned below allows the Embassy to keep the photocopies of documents for purpose of visa procedure. False or falsified documents, including fake bookings, will lead to the refusal of visa and/or further consequences.

Duty of Full Disclosure: Visa applicants are obligated to provide complete and accurate information concerning their previous visa applications, including but not limited to details regarding previous rejections, approvals, overstays, and any other relevant circumstances. The Embassy reserves the right to refuse or reject a visa application if, upon review, it is determined that the applicant has not fully disclosed information pertaining to previous visa applications. Non-disclosure is considered a serious breach of the application process and may be grounds for denial, irrespective of the merits of the current application.
